Dear Sir

Re: Ruskin Development

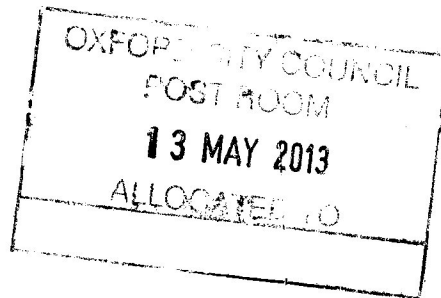

I am not personally acquainted with the immediate environs of Worcester College, but my granddaughter is a student there, accommodated in the fairly new residential buildings, and from here I get glowing reports of the College grounds, the garden, and the lake. I can understand the college authorities, students, and nearby householders being distressed by the proposed plan that will deny them the calming and visual pleasure derived from strolling in the College grounds, if these were to become overshadowed by a high massive structure nearby.

Extra student accommodation may be needed, but any proposed building should enhance the surrounding environment in a beautiful old city like Oxford, therefore I ask the city council to consider the impact of this proposed building on the public in general, and hopefully reach agreement with the developers on some modification to the proposed plan

Yours faithfully

G Ashby
